Chico, Ca September 27th – Introducing the Butte Environmental Council's LAND AIR WATER Benefit Concert Series, beginning September 27th at the GRUB Cooperative featuring singer-songwriter and storyteller John Craigie. His timeless melodies and insightful lyrics are interspersed with witty storytelling to create live performances that inspire and delight his audiences. He will be joined by local troubadours Pat Hull and Scott Itamura to kick off the first installment of the Land Air Water Benefit concert series. Join us under the big walnut tree at GRUB for a night of amazing storytellers and true songwriters.

The Land Air Water concert series is a benefit to support the Butte Environmental Council's ongoing advocacy efforts to protect the land, air and water of Butte County and the surrounding region.

The series is sponsored by the Chico News & Review, Chico Natural Foods Cooperative, KZFR 90.1 FM, and Strange Seed Music.

The series continues on October 24 featuring Wiskerman and Low Flying Birds, then concludes on November 14 with The Bumtset, both at the Chico Women's Club.

September 27th at the GRUB Cooperative 1525 Dayton rd. Doors at 6:30pm and Show at 7:30. Tickets are available at Chico Natural Foods, Empire Coffee, and online at strangeseedmusic.com. Visit becnet.org for information or call the 530-354-0717.
